

Won't use a table for customers, as the app doesn't provide a feature to create a user account. Each time when ordering, the address, name, etc. has to be specified and is therefore stored in the orders table.